Editor's Note

Each of us has heard at one time or another that high school years are the best years of our lives. And when all is said and done, the pleasant memories outweigh the melancholy, the successes overshadow the struggles. These are the times that will bring satisfaction and fulfillment to each student of Frankenmuth High in the years ahead. With these thoughts in mind, the 1974 Eyrie staff has attempted to capture such invaluable memories in the opening section of this volume, with the theme, "Upon the Silent Shore of Memory." In "The Excursion" by William Wordsworth, he writes:

"And when the stream,
Which overflowed the soul was passed away,
A consciousness remained that it had left,
Deposited upon the silent shore of memory,
Images and precious thoughts
That shall not die, and cannot be destroyed."

It is our wish that this yearbook will be that "silent shore" for each FHS graduate as the years pass by.

Each day of the 1973-1974 school year, more than seven hundred students flocked to what they knew to be their "educational institution". Nearly seven hours of their day was spent in wandering through the labyrinthine corridors of F.H.S. in an attempt to gain that precious wisdom the youth so often hears about. Each student discovered something different during this journey and it was these varying ideas and feelings that made Frankenmuth High the enchanting mosaic it was. Every individual contributed his part to make F.H.S. what it was this year, and the memory of each will live on. Some will be remembered by all, but each will be remembered by someone.

In Memorium: Dennis L. Kern

Dennis Lee Kern was born on June 14, 1956, to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kern as the second of four children. Dennis attended St. Lorenz Lutheran School through the 8th grade. While attending Frankenmuth High School as a member of the class of 1974, he was also a junior usher at St. Lorenz Lutheran Church. Dennis was an ardent fan of all local and national sports, and knew many sports statistics by memory.

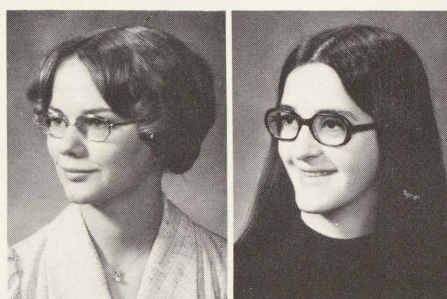

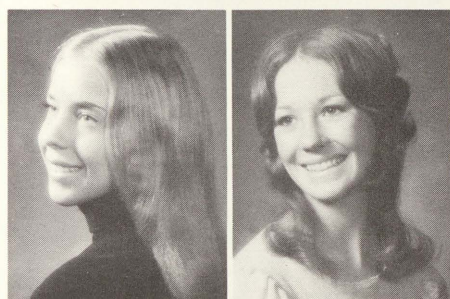

Being brought up on a farm, Dennis played an important part in working with his father and older brother on their land. It was in a farm accident on March 26, 1973, that Dennis passed away. Those who knew him will always remember his friendly smile that never seemed to fade from his face.

One of Dennis's major interests in high school was industrial education. He was enrolled in nearly every class available in this department and maintained an exceptional average. When he died, his class established The Dennis L. Kern Industrial Education Award, an honor given each year to the outstanding student in that department. The first recipient of the award was his brother Ken. It is the wish of the Class of 1974 that each student who is deemed worthy of this award in the future will accept it with respect for what it represents.

The Graduating Class Of 1974

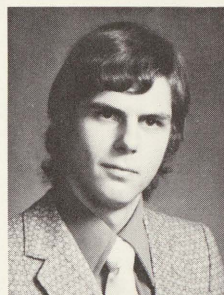

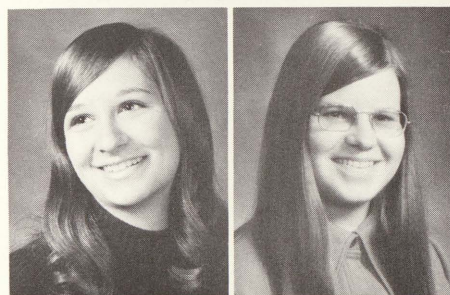

From ordering graduation announcements to addressing the envelopes, from being measured for caps and gowns to donning them for the first and final time, this is the road the senior class travelled their final high school year. Realizing that they were the oldest students at Frankenmuth High and it was really "their" Senior Prom came easily for some and slower for others.

Nonetheless, in the end, the words "senior" and "graduation" had their own special meaning for each member of the class of '74. On the following seven pages are those students who truly believed in their hearts that the class of 1974 was the greatest ever; this pride will always be theirs.

Because of the many achievements the members of the graduating class has accumulated, the staff has used the number one (1) to represent activity in the freshman year, the number two (2) to represent activity in the sophomore year, etc. Also, FYA is Frankenmuth Youth Abroad, NHS is National Honor Society, and GAA is Girls' Athletic Association.

The Religious Angle

to commencement exercises took place in the baclaureate service on June 2 for the Class of '74. It was held at St. Lorenz Lutheran Church with the Reverend Ronald Moritz conducting the service. With it came the realization for many of the graduates that their high school years were finally over.

As one looks at the surface of a school system, he first sees the building, its facilities, and its students. We at Frankenmuth High are proud of these surface images. However, to truly understand and appreciate these facets one must look deeper to realize what makes it all possible. After all is said and done, the success of a school system lies entirely in the ingenuity and co-operation of the administration. No matter how much we students are dissatisfied with the pressures and regulations set by these men and women, in the end we all realize how fortunate we are to have more-than-capable personnel be part of F.H.S. We are sincerely as proud of our "inside" as our "outside".

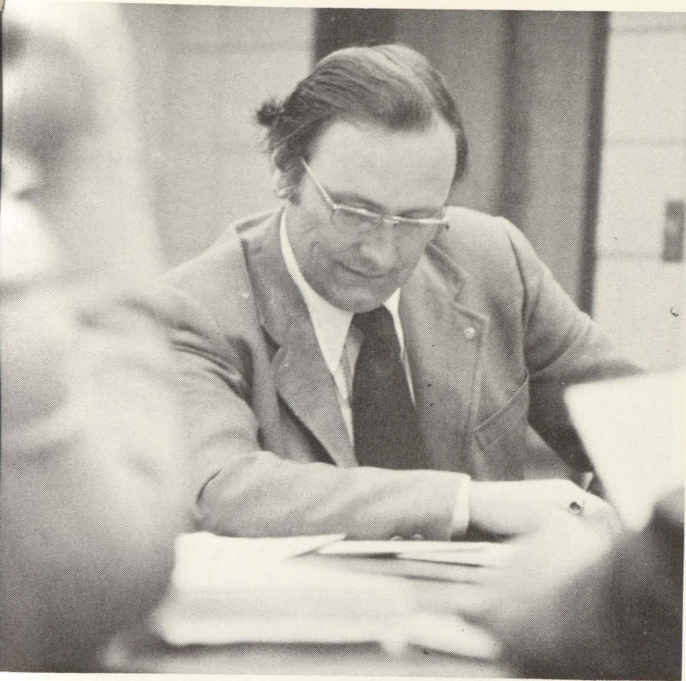

Inside

Dedication and Sincere interest in Frankenmuth High School best describe the members of our board of education. Their cooperation with the faculty, the students, and other FHS administrators has helped to lengthen the list of school programs available to students and members of the community. In one way or another, each student has been favorably affected by the board's work; hence, the school board is partially responsible for restoring school pride over the past few years.

The Frankenmuth High School Board of Education members are a.) Mr. Melvin Wenzel, b.) Mr. Walter Frahm, president since 1961, c.) Mr. E. F. Rittmueller, secretary, d.) Dr. Harold Braeutigam, treasurer, e.) Mr. Gerald Rustem, the newest member, f.) Mr. Harold Krafft, g.) Mr. Edmund Pickelmann. h.) A typical scene during a board meeting.

The Administration Builds

a strong foundation for the school system. Together they make the decisions which affect the school, its teachers, and its students. Frankenmuth's administrators have done an excellent job in the past and will continue to do their best. This has been one of Frankenmuth High's finest assets.

Daniel Gibson, principal, is new to our administrative team this year. After earning his master's degree from Central Michigan University, he taught speech and history, and also coached athletics for the school in Harbor Beach. He occupies his spare time with reading, drama, and goes to various athletic events.

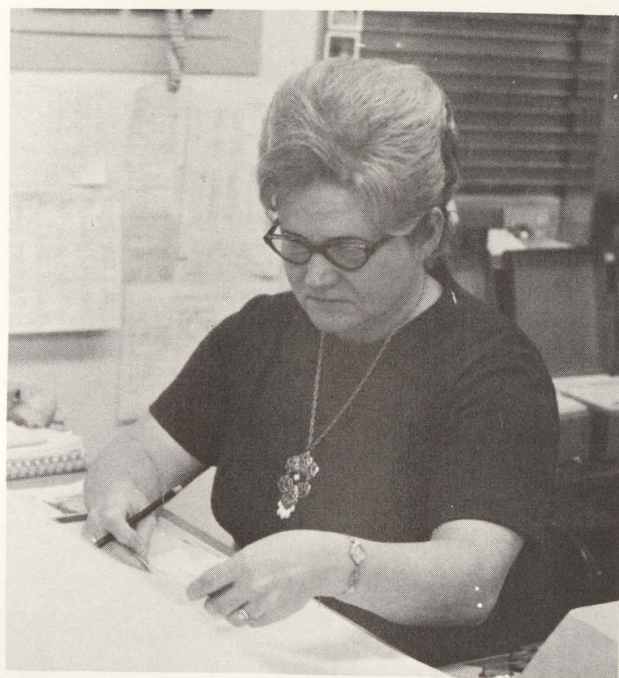

a. Keeping the schools functioning properly occupies the time of superintendent Jerold McEwen. b. Mr. Gibson seems pleased with his work as he smiles for the camera. c. Louie Weiss, assistant principal, pauses amid his busy schedule.

a. Phyllis Mason, secretary for Mr. Gibson, is kept busy. b. Personal secretary to the assistant principal is Ruth Zehnder. c. Vivian Pringle makes sure all the work is completed in the guidance office.

c

Keeping the Files

in order is not always an easy job. It demands many hours of work and concentration. However, this is not all that Mrs. Zehnder, Mrs. Mason, and Mrs. Pringle do. Their work requires many skills. Frankenth High is fortunate to employ such capable secretaries.

Lunch Time

was much less hectic this year. The opening of the new kitchen and cafeterial facilities, the introduction of the successful a la carte line, the vending machines, and the increase of employees all helped to make lunchtime more enjoyable. Although underclassmen still seem to dominate the end of the lines, at least the lines are shorter!

d

Returning to two half-hour lunch periods are c. head cook, Hildegard Maurer, d. Christine Rummel, e. Leona Weber, Helen Block, and Ellen Wescoat. The cooks have more to do this year keeping the very popular a la carte line moving along swiftly. Part of its success may be attributed to the cashiers, a. Delores Dietzel and b. Betty Nettleton.

Guidance Counseling

is not an easy job. Much of the time, patience and understanding are a part of each decision that is made. Although counseling of seniors constitutes a great percentage of their job, it is not their only function. They spend much of their time setting up and rearranging student class schedules, and leave their offices periodically to administer tests to a variety of students. Yet the counselors are always there when a problem arises.

d

The counseling staff at Franlenmuth High consists of Coach "Budd" Tompkins and Mrs. Joy Atkins. a. Seeking Coach's assistance is Shelly Kincade. b. Mrs. Atkins reviews Lori Demers' schedule with her. c. Peeking inside the guidance door, we see Laura Bierlein and Cindy Coupar busy at work like good little assistants. d. Coach Tompkins is explaining instructions of one of the many tests administered annually.

Behind the Scenes

but not to go unnoticed are the bus drivers and custodians. When transportation was needed for an athletic or theatrical excursion, there was always a bus waiting at the exit. And not too often was there a major problem that went unrepaired when the maintenance department was involved. From the students at F.H.S. goes deep appreciation to the transportation and custodial departments.

b

a. An everyday scene is captured here as Mrs. Keinath washes a window pane. She is always kept busy with fingerprinted windows as there are more where that one came from. b. On F.H.S.'s custodial staff are Harold Hildner, Bob Schoenknecht, Arno Fischer, Viola Krauseneck, and Verna Keinath. Missing is Mel Trinklein, head custodian. c. Pictured at right is just a part of the bus driving staff. Bob Jacobs, upper left, was this year's transportation director.

Remember how Mom and Dad often remind us—the students of today—how difficult school was in “their day”? A teacher was revered and far-removed from his pupils, and viewed only as a figure of authority and great wisdom. Mom and Dad remember their teachers with great respect and perhaps apprehension. We are told that we have it easy now, that teachers are lenient. But what has really changed? Certainly, in most of this generation’s classrooms, the instructor-pupil relationship is one of friendliness and cooperation; the atmosphere is pleasant and relaxed. Each student has his favorite teacher with whom he can candidly discuss personal problems and philosophy if he wishes. Because of this, the instructors of F.H.S. will always be remembered with that same respect of yesteryear, but also with immeasurable fondness. They too will leave their footprints “upon the silent shore of memory”.

Instructors

Unique Departments

such as Tri-Community classes, special education, and the instructional materials center, are utilizing their new facilities. Two Tri-C sections are housed here at F.H.S., while others are at Birch Run and Bridgeport.

b

a. Mrs. Margaret McCabe, who teaches the Tri-C health occupations class, assists Bev Schiefer and Julie Geyer in taking Bev's blood pressure. b. Mrs. Judith Maier, the librarian, catches up on keeping the vertical file up-to-date. She also has her hands full keeping order in the I.M.C., as it is one of the school's most popular places to "socialize". c. Mrs. Pamela Flemming's special education students meet in what used to be the chemistry room. It has been remodelled to create a very pleasant atmosphere. d. Mrs. Mary Lou Zehnder, who used to teach home economics at F.H.S., is back instructing the Tri-C child care students. Their facilities, which include exciting playthings for tots, are housed in two old classrooms.

a. Mr. Thomas Bucholz teaches basic design, small engine, auto reconditioning, and welding classes. b. Mrs. Patricia Huffer, the instructor in the home economics department second semester, teaches bachelor living, food and family, family ecology, and comprehensive home economy. c. Mr. Warren Naber teaches drafting classes, mechanical drawing, and architectural drafting. d. Mrs. Sandy Piesko taught bachelor living, fashion sewing, teen living, and comprehensive home economics first semester.

Girls' and Guys'

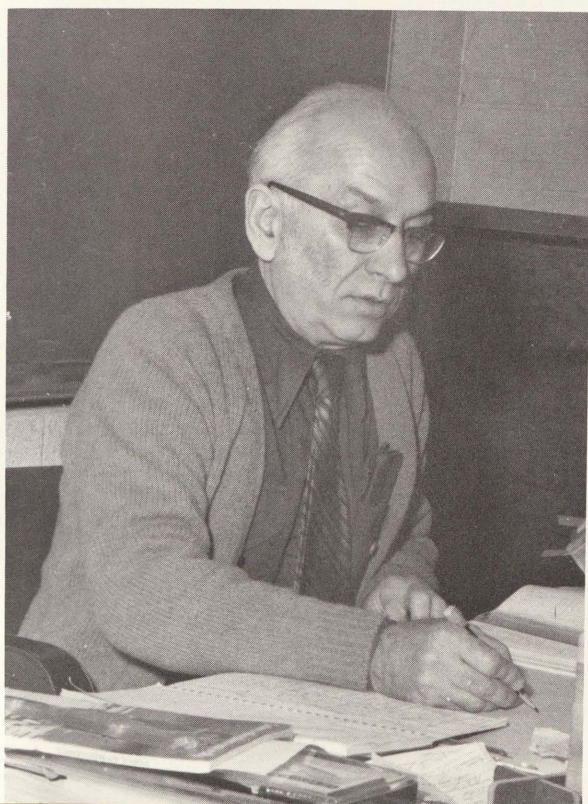

classes in the past have been clearly distinguished. However, this year the guys learned how to sew in buttons and cook, while more girls learned the art of drafting and repairing a car. Another change took place after the first semester when Mrs. Piesko was granted a leave of absence and Mrs. Huffer filled the vacancy in the home economics department.

c

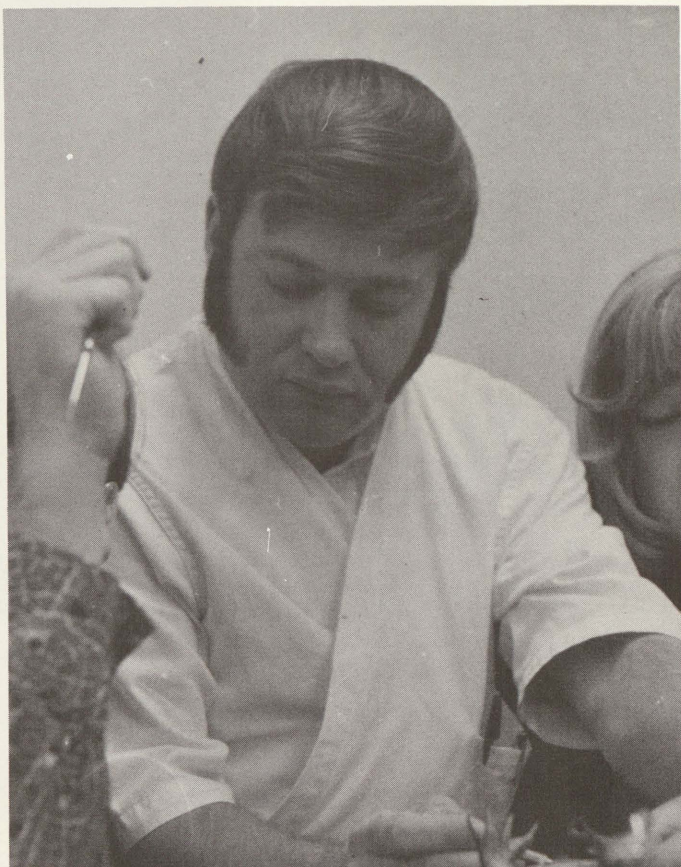

d

Physical Science

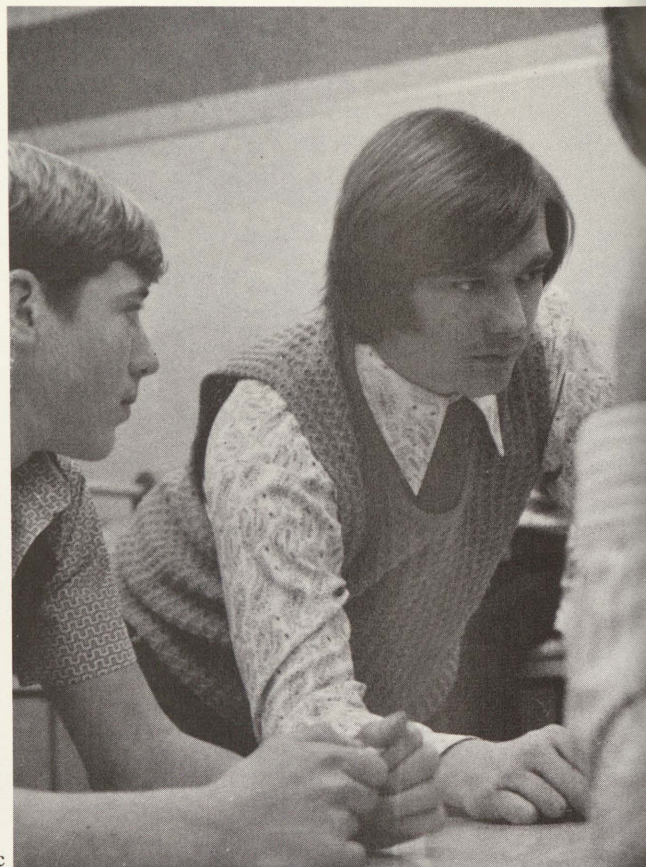

classes have easily put to use the new facilities available to them. The students have shown an increasing interest in this field, realizing the satisfaction they receive in understanding their environment. This department includes introductory classes for science and biology, along with its advanced courses, namely physics and chemistry.

c

a. Mrs. Pam Bannick spends her day teaching introductory science and introductory biology classes. b. Mr. Charles Lyon teaches introductory and advanced biology. c. Mr. Gary Bruns keeps busy instructing physics, introductory and earth science, and basic electricity. d. Mr. David Swetich teaches chemistry, practical math, and Algebra I.

a. Miss Mary Fitzgerald teaches world history, survey of literary forms, and a Wild West class. b. Mr. Ric Ruhl is kept busy with American survival classes, emergence of modern America, Civil War, and wild West classes. c. Mr. Thomas Flemming teaches government and individual in society courses. d. Mr. Don Gregory spends his day teaching psychology, sociology, Michigan history, and individual in society.

d

Social Science

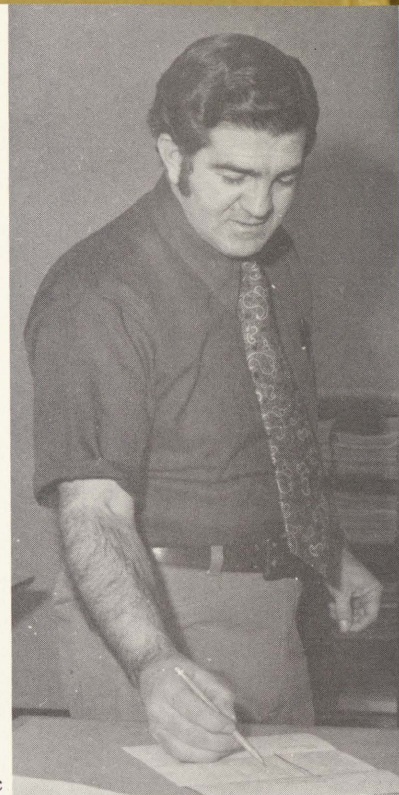

classes discuss historical, present, and future situations of the world. This department includes government, psychology, sociology, and various history classes.

c

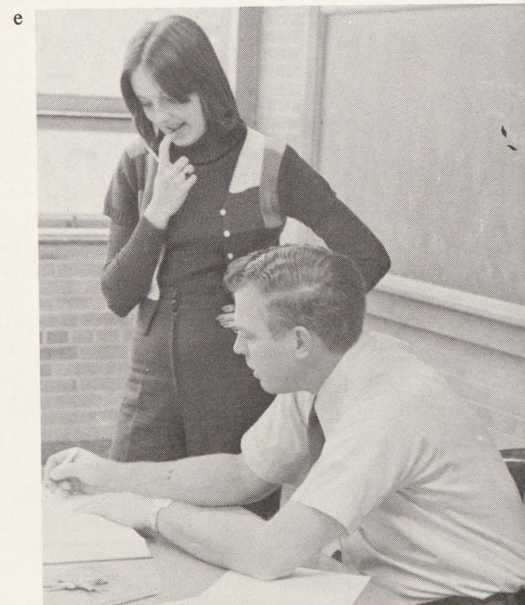

a. Mrs. JoAnn Szybala questions one of her two French classes. She also teaches various literature courses. b. Mrs. Jeanette Ruhl tries to keep a straight face during one of her many business classes. c. Mr. Marco Marcet double-checks the basketball roster for the upcoming game, as he is athletic director. In addition, he teaches shorthand, typing, and bookkeeping. d. Subordinate conjunctions are the topic for the day in Mr. Weber's five German classes. e. Mr. Charles Bartel lends his wisdom to a student in his general business class. He also teaches business law and typing.

Future Secretaries,

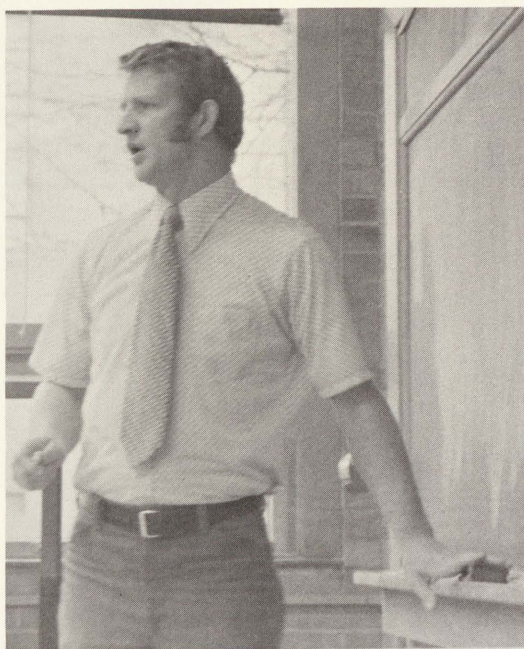

managers, and lawyers practiced improving their skills of typing, bookkeeping, and note taking, while many students enriched their understanding of customs of France and Germany in foreign language classes.

b

c

e

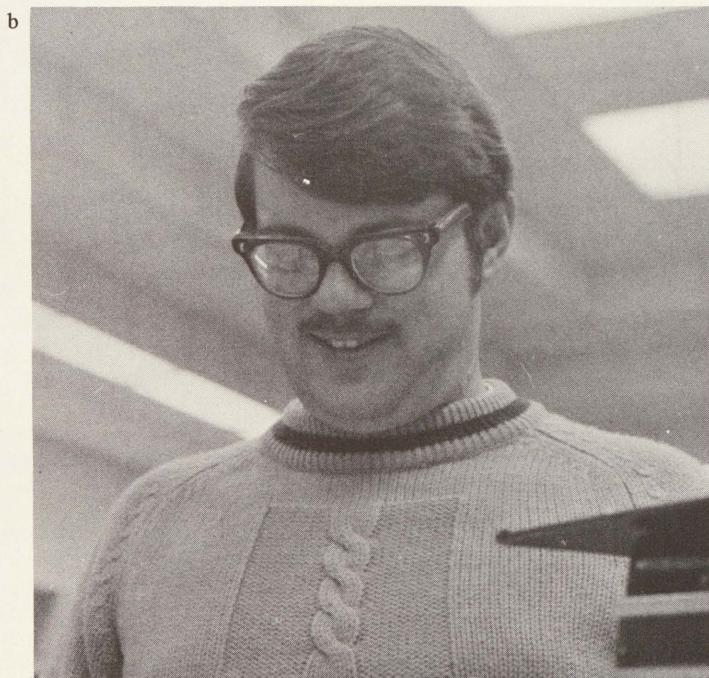

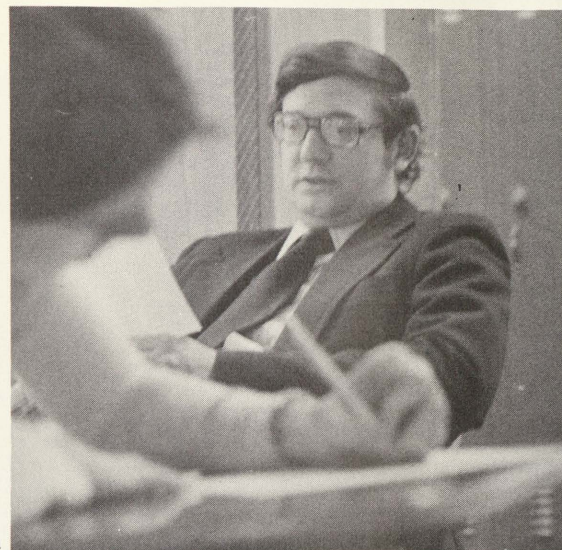

a. Mrs. Penny Pelzer joins in the fun with one of her five physical education classes. b. Mr. Warren Wilson questions a student in one of his Algebra II classes. He also teaches geometry. c. Sitting this one out, Mr. Art Pelzer rests while his boys' physical education class continues. d. Mr. Byron Charters spends his day teaching Algebra I and advanced math. e. Mrs. Sharon Smith helps a student in one of her discovery and practice classes. She also teaches technical algebra and geometry.

Physically Fit Bodies

are stressed in physical education classes. To accomplish this, exercises, gymnastics, and ballgames are practiced each day. Math students explored every angle of the mathematical scale to come up with the correct answers to the problems placed before them.

English Courses

help the students better their skills of reading and writing, and broaden their knowledge of various styles of world literature.

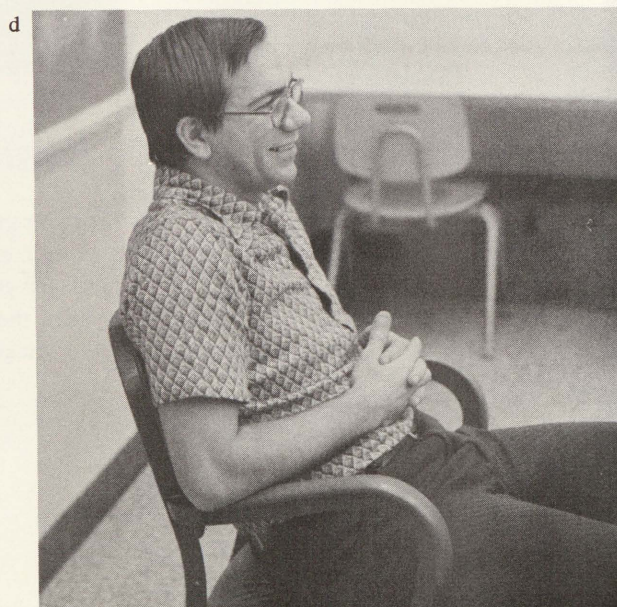

a. Mr. Erik Swanson teaches college composition, Composition II, modern America, Nobel Prize Authors, advanced reading techniques, and literature of minority groups.

b. Mr. John Kiley reads papers from his practical writing, writing skills, developing reading skills, living English, survey of literary forms, and ancient literature classes.

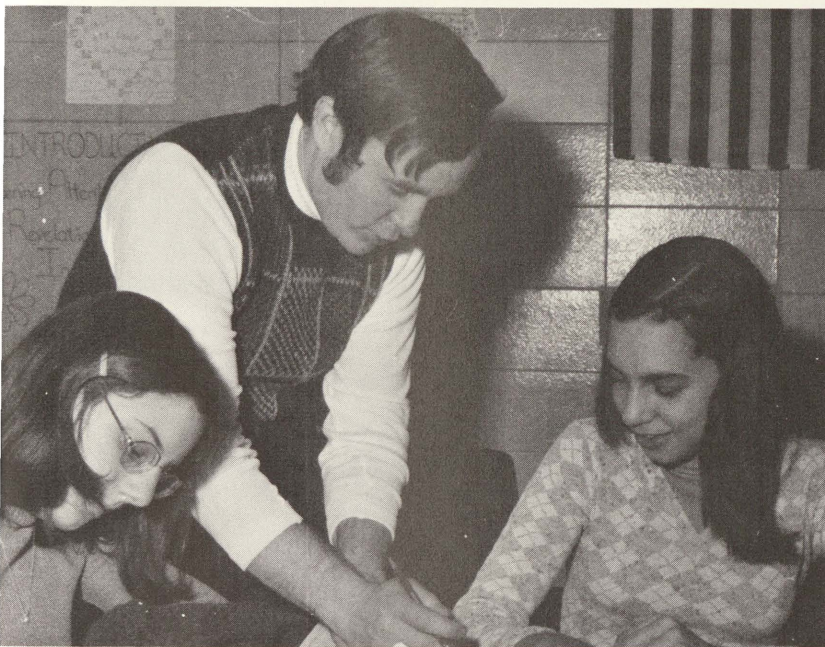

c. Miss Kathy Hughes teaches writing skills, literary explorations, modern American literature, living English, and contemporary reading.

d. Mr. Art Loesel teaches Composition I, practical writing, American heritage, contemporary reading, and literary explorations.

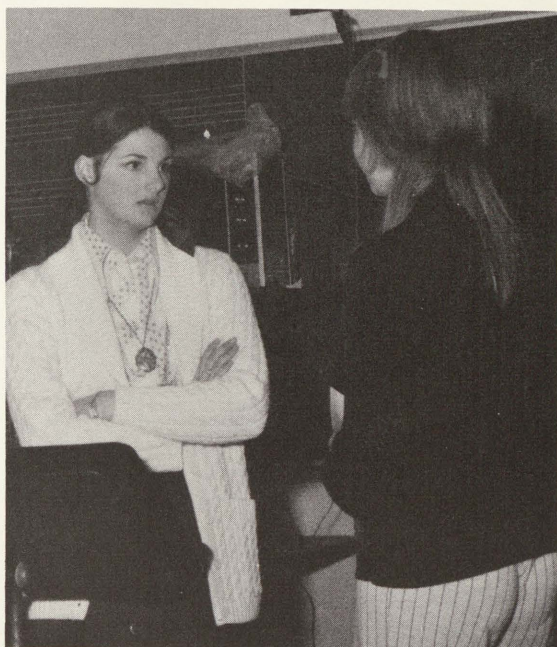

Among the Lighter

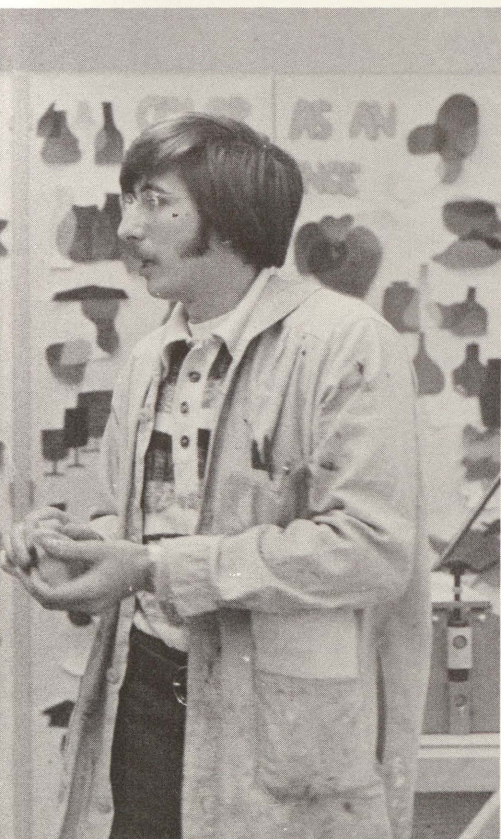

classes are art, music, and speech. They help the students to develop their special talents and interests.

d

a. Mr. Gerald Hennessy teaches speech, children's theater, forensics, and radio and TV broadcasting. b. Mrs. Yvonne Sturgis directs the Swing Choir. c. Mr. Al Maciag keeps busy teaching Art I and Art II. d. Mr. James VanDevelde directs the senior and freshman bands.

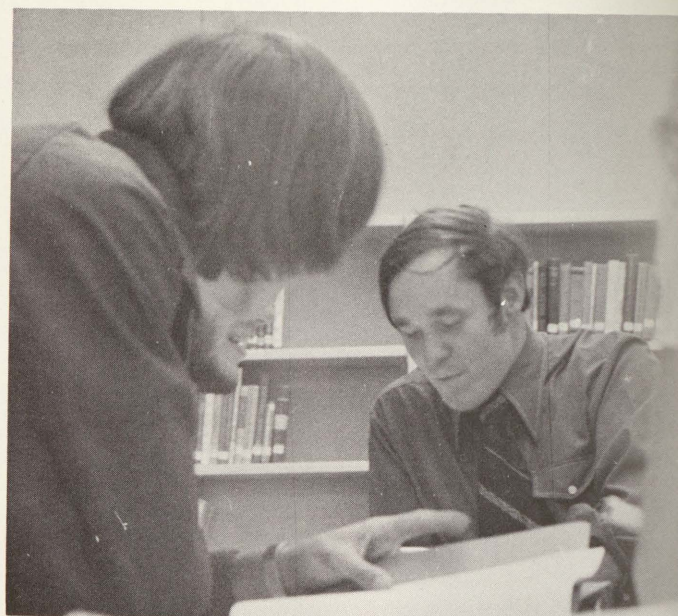

Remember . . .

c

a. . . when we got to take those exciting President's Physical Fitness tests? b. . . those last few minutes of sixth hour with Mr. Swanson? c. . . when Mr. Hennessy entertained us with his versatile voice? d. . . when you got into those "deep intellectual conversations" with Mr. Bucholz?

From 8:30 in the morning until 3:10 in the afternoon, each student can be found somewhere in the school building. The ways this time can be spent range from writing note cards for a research paper to sleeping in class. But for a majority of the students, these seven hours are not the end of the day, and the outlets are as many and varied as during the school day. Be it athletics or debate, band or the Ski Club, the enjoyment and personal satisfaction are treasured by many. For some, one hour's involvement in an extracurricular activity is more valuable than the seven hours of education which precede it. It is to these people that the following pages are dedicated.

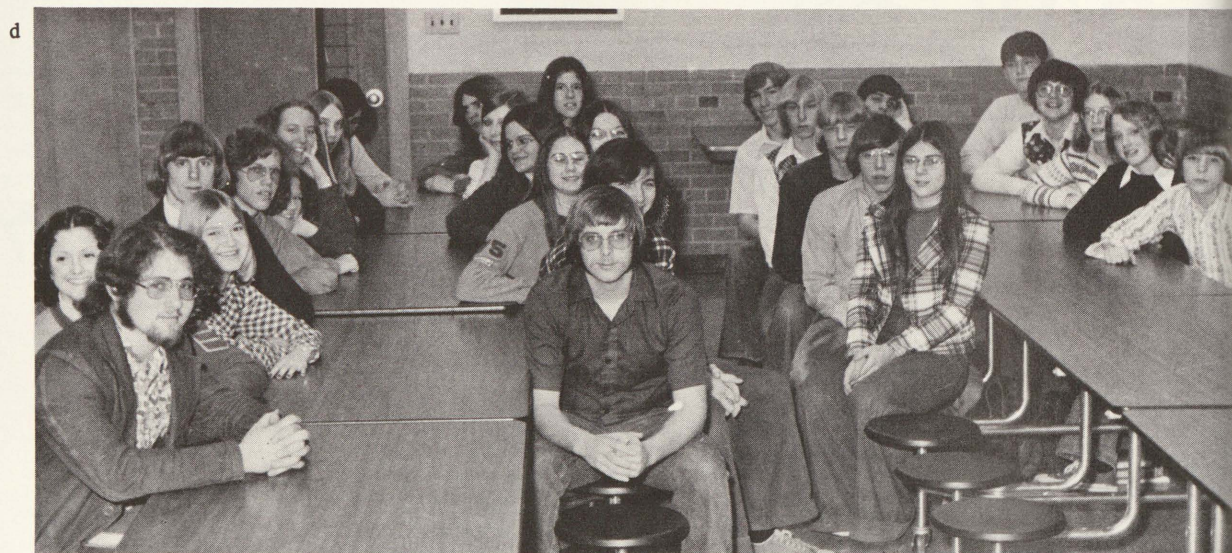

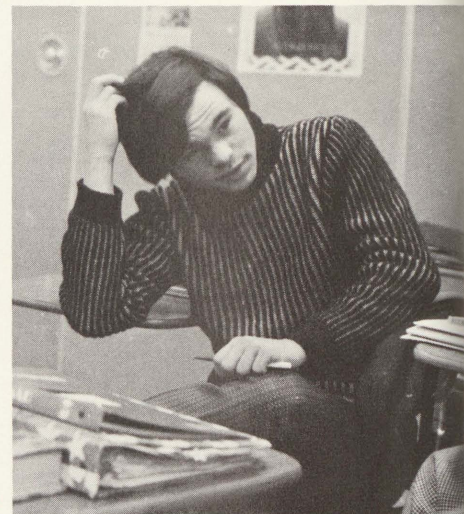

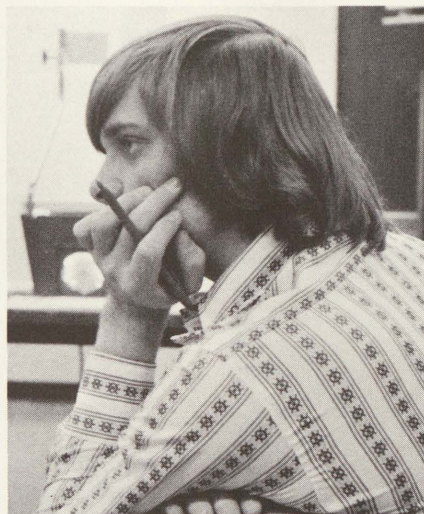

Involvement

with the administrators is important to each student at FHS. Representing all of us is the Student Council. One of their largest campaigns this year was to put a student representative on the school board, and with a little more work they feel it can be accomplished in the near future. Student Council also sponsored a dance and the muscular dystrophy drive this year.

a. Replacing the outgoing officers are Ken Holmes—vice-pres., Cherie Veitengruber—sec., Debbie Trinklein—treas., and Jim Barger—pres. b. Jim contemplates a new proposal. c. It seems John Bierlein, the outgoing president, isn't so sure about his successor. d. 1973-1974 Student Council members are Seniors R. Smith, G. Trinklein, E. List, F. Malott, A. Eichhorn, B. Temple, C. Wenzel, D. Moeller, J. Bierlein; Juniors J. Barger, K. Holmes, C. Veitengruber, D. Trinklein, C. Engerer, A. Bassett, P. Wade, J. Weiss; Sophomores K. Beyerlein, D. Zehnder, B. Duclos, K. Once Again the National Honor Society members sponsored their candy sale in an effort to finance the N.H.S. Awards Banquet. This year marked the largest profit ever made on the annual sales which enabled all who were invited to the banquet to get in free. A canoe trip was also scheduled for the spring but was cancelled due to weather conditions.

Frankenmuth Youth

abroad sent students all over the world last summer after a year of hard work. The students of this group raise money for those going abroad to help finance their trips. This year they put on a number of candy sales, bake sales, and dances, and they also sold T-shirts.

Exchange Students

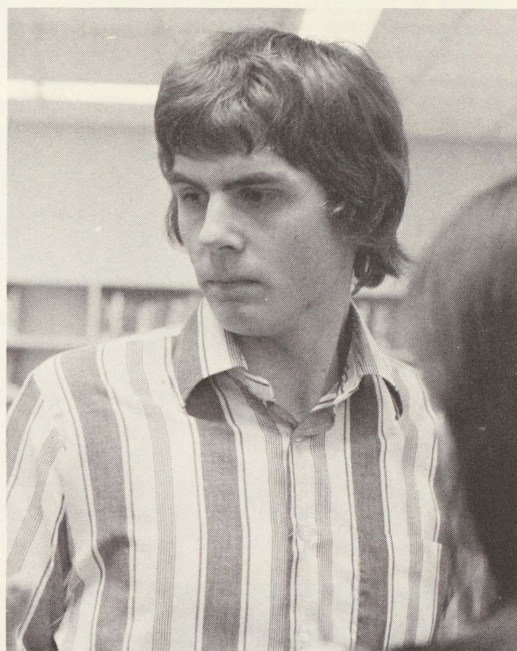

students came from all over the world to stay with families in Frankenmuth this year. Each in his own way, they learned to communicate with their fellow students and also with the other exchange students. In fact near the end of the year, when looking for Andy one could always find Silvia too, and where Dieke was, there was Craig! Besides the five exchange students pictured on this page, there were two other foreign visitors at FHS for a short while during the year. They are Ilse Högback from Finland and Görl Bergland of Sweden.

Something Old and something new was added to the list of clubs this year. In addition to the familiar Fly-tying and Ski Clubs, the Radio Club found its beginnings and the German Club was brought back to F.H.S. The "First Leg of The Triple Crown"

The Frankenmuth High School debate squad was a part of a triple winner for Frankenmuth speech activities this season. The debate squad, the forensics team, and the one-act play cast were all in state finals. Four senior debaters paced the squad to the state finals. The seniors, all four-year debaters who had never been members of a losing debate squad, each won numerous spokemanship awards and all received the Detroit Free Press Speaker Award. The varsity squad placed first with an 18-2 record in their favorite Lower Thumb League and went on to place in the districts and regionals, and attended the state finals.

The junior varsity and novice debaters present a bright picture for the future of debating at FHS. The JV squad was inexperienced but also successful in winning fourth in the City League and second in the Lower Thumb League. This year's JV squad will be joined by selected novice members to compose next year's varsity. Twenty-two freshmen composed the novice team this season as they captured second place in the All-City League.

On all levels, this was an extremely successful year for Frankenmuth debaters and their coach Gerald Hennessy.

"You're a Good Man,

Charlie Brown" indeed! Charles Schultz's "lovable, irresistible, and totally unpredictable brainchildren" were brought to life by F.H.S. students as the major production of 1973-1974. This was perhaps among the most successful productions ever, as it was enjoyed by more than 2000 people of all ages. "You're a Good Man" is the most widely-used play among high schools this year, and all who saw the F.H.S. performance will agree that they were top-notch.

Chief director was Gerald Hennessy and his assistant was Mary Fitzgerald. Student directors were Linda Metzger and Alex Duff. Musicians were Nancy Wenzloff and Sue Zehnder, pianists; Rosemary Allen, Floutist; and Dave Stenglein, percussionist. Mr. Bucholz and members of his classes constructed the abstract set. "You're a Good Man" was sponsored by the senior class.

f

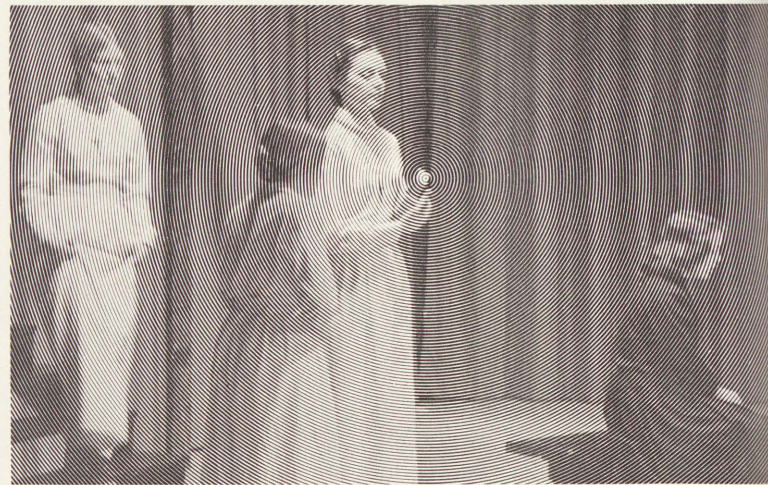

"To Burn a Witch",

by James L. Bray, was the title of the one-act play put on by Eunice List, Kathy Bender, Patsy Gugel, and Beth Temple under the direction of Mr. Hennesy. The play was centered around the time of the witch trials in Salem, Massachusetts. Being entered into the One-act Play Competition, it took first place in districts, second place in regionals, and then saw its way to state finals. During the course of the competition, a number of individual acting awards were presented to each of the four girls.

Strange New

experiences each year are in store for those who tour with the Frankenmuth Children's Theatre group. Each year the children's theatre classes tour to various schools in the area. Millington, Vassar, and Bridgeport make exciting places to travel to when they are filled with squirming youngsters expectant of "another Frankenmuth play". The real pleasure of drama is never so evident as when the cast and crew receive letters from children who viewed the production. The letters expressed wht the Touring Children's Theatre is all about. As one young person put it, "Your play was so good that it made me think that when I was going out I wished I was just going in."

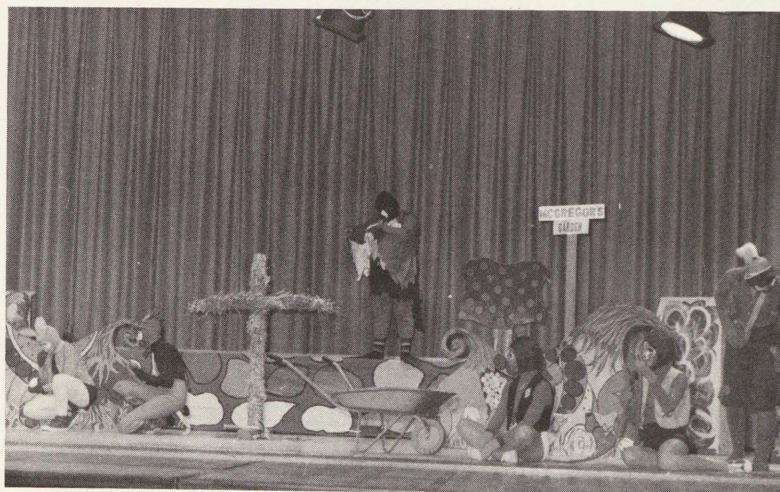

This year's production of "Peter Rabbit" made use of a double cast which allowed more than 30 people the experience of the Touring Children's Theatre.

Good Times

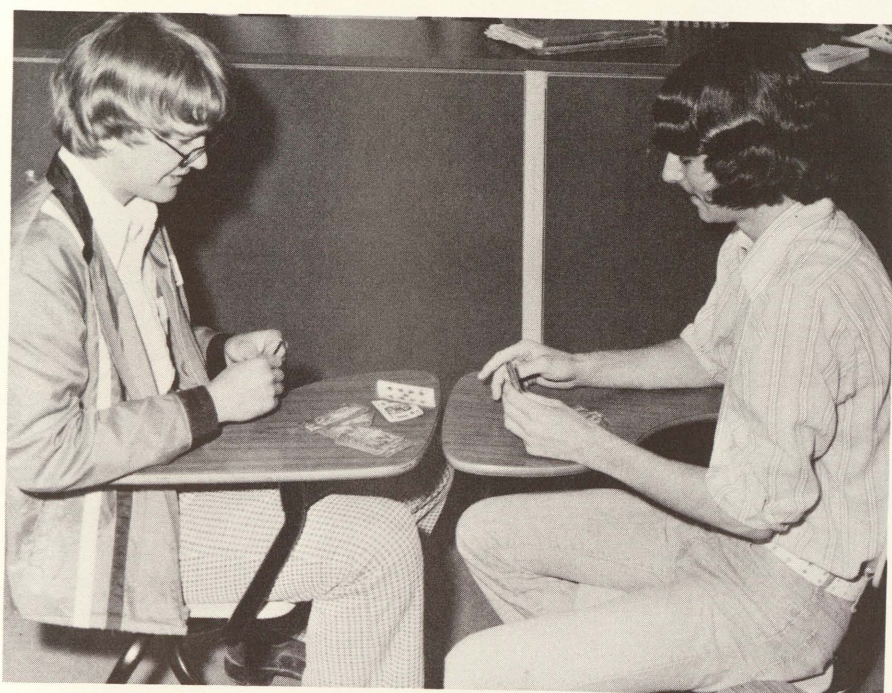

and invaluable experiences were had by all who participated in spring forensics again this year. Not only was this year's squad the largest ever, but also the victories and trophies outnumbered previous years. Under the coaching of Mr. Hennessy, all of a possible 16 F.H.S. participants in the districts made it to regional competition, three of whom qualified for state finals. It was indeed a successful forensics season for F.H.S.!

The Eyrie Staff

has put it all together in words and pictures again this year. Because they have perhaps the largest expense account of all the clubs at FHS, they sponsored a dance in the fall to help finance their new edition. The annual advertising drive and yearbook sales were of course on the list of their events also.

The staff would like to thank the Frankenmuth News and Rummel Studios, Inc. for supplying pictures, and Willem Sellenraad for helping out when needed. Also, special thanks to Mark Nuechterlein for designing our cover, and to Beth Temple for the title page design. Without the help and encouragement of our salesman, Mr. Eric Gruesbeck of Inter-Collegiate Press, this volume would not have been possible. Last but not least, our very deepest appreciation goes to our advisor, Mr. Arthur Loesel, for his helpful attitude and never-ending patience and concern.

Student Assistants

numbered more this year than in the past. Another Year of hard work and fun has ended for the cheerleaders of F.H.S. This year has been a very rewarding year which began with the win of a third place trophy from Camps All-American during the summer. Scattered throughout the year were various competitions in which the cheerleaders participated. At these, the varsity squad earned a first place trophy at Northwood Institute, a second place trophy at Kingston, and also at the state level they took a second place in our district.

The junior varsity squad also won ribbons at Camps All-American, and to round out their year, they took a first place in the J.V. division at Northwood.

The freshman cheerleaders were rewarded for their skills by a first place trophy at Kingston. All three squads are coached by Mrs. Penny Pelzer.

In Anticipation of the traditional homecoming ceremony for 1973-1974 were more than 700 F.H.S. students, but especially three lovely young ladies. Cheryl Olgaard, Kathy Bender, and Renee Pringle were the three senior nominees for Homecoming Queen for this year's event. At half time of the football game against Sandusky, the tension was released as Kathy was announced 1974 Homecoming Queen.

Young Eagles Finish Strong

as they compiled a won-loss record of 5-4. Starting out the season as a running quarterback and fullback club, the Eagles lost their first three games. Switching to an offense dominated by the pass, the determined gridders came back to win five of their last six ball games, the one loss going to Caro when they scored late in the fourth quarter. The transition was so successful that eleven passing records were broken. Equally potent was the Muth defense, led by Willy Rummel, Rod Weiss, and Jim Schiefer in amount of tackles.

This year's squad was led by co-captains Bob Rummel and Willy Rummel. Receiving the MVP award was defensive end, Jim Schiefer. The Eagles placed two players on the All-Conference team. Earning honors for first team were Mike Walker, offensive end, and Jim Schiefer. The list of proud Muth gridders making honorable mention on offense were John Metzger and Jeff Reinbold, junior guards; Dave VonBehren, sophomore quarterback; and Steve Wilkinson, junior back. Eagles on the honorable mention defensive team were Mike Webb, senior end; Rod Weiss, senior interior lineman; Willy Rummel and Kurt Eischer, senior linebackers; Bob Rummel, senior back, and Ron Schreiner, junior back.

For next year, the outlook is promising with the loss of only twelve seniors, and the return of twenty-four lettermen.

showed much potential for the future of Frankenmuth football. The J.V. team finished strong, winning three out of its last four ballgames, on their way to a 5-5 won-lost record. This group of sophomores will be ready in two years to form the core of the 1975 varsity football team.

The 1973 freshman football squad compiled a record of two wins, two losses, and one tie. In their second year of coaching the frosh team, coaches Ruhl and Bruns were extremely proud of their team's desire to win and to improve themselves as Frankenmuth football players.

The Varsity Basketball team earned the school's best season record as a Class B school by winning 20 games against only five losses. Tri-captains this year were Bob Rummel, Al Nuechterlein, and Phil Korkus, who all made it onto the All-Conference team. Bob Rummel, also MVP for the second year in a row, was the only Frankenmuth player to make the All-Conference first team. Al and Phil made the second team. Al Nuechterlein led the team in number of assists and free throw percentage through the season, Phil Korkus is fourth in the school record books in career rebounding, and Bob Rummel, with 447 points this year, ranks second in career points with 1,089 total points gained from three years of varsity ball. Paced by the consistent, phenomenal outside shooting of Nuechterlein, Rummel, and Mark Black, plus the height of Korkus, Jeff Reinbold, and Mike Lapointe, the Eagles made it all the way to the regional finals before being eliminated by a quick Flint Powers team.

Successful Seasons

were recorded by both the J.V. and freshman teams. The J.V. team showed it had offensive power by going over the hundred-mark twice in the season. Having an impressive 16-2 won-lost record, they extended the J.V.'s winning streak to 37 straight games before being beaten by Bad Axe halfway through the season.

The freshman teams each came through with fine records. The "A" team went 9-6, while the "B" team went 10-4. These promising slates were earned without their best player who was moved up to the J.V. team.

and an extremely successful season this year. Going undefeated in dual meets through the season, plus winning the Birch Run Invitational, this year's team had one of the best seasons in Frankenmuth High School history by being Conference Co-Champs.

This year's group of thinclads was led by a very talented and dedicated group of seniors who will be missed next year as Coach Pelzer will try to better this year's outstanding performance.

c. High in the air, Al Nuechterlein stretches for extra distance in the long jump. d. MVP Dan Weber hands the baton off to co-captain Jim Schiefer in the mile relay. e. MVP Matt Schmitzer eyes the track ahead of him as he clears a high hurdle with ease.

Intramurals

kept many people busy through the winter months. Headed by Mr. Ruhl and Mr. Loesel, this year's program included bowling, volleyball, and basketball. The intramural program, which was enjoyed by all who were involved, allows students to let off steam who otherwise couldn't compete because of jobs or the hours of practice required by a varsity sport.

gained valuable experience this year. With only five seniors to work with, Coach Ric Ruhl sometimes fielded seven juniors during a game. With this returning group of juniors, Coach Ruhl is optimistic about next year's campaign. Two players that will be surely missed next year because of graduation are Al Nuechterlein, this year's MVP, and Bob Rummel, the team captain.

Girls' Athletics

were introduced to Frankenmuth High this year, and the girls wasted no time in setting up a winning tradition. For their first year out, the varsity basketball team was league champs. They went 8-1 for the regular season but bowed out to Ovid-Elsie in the district tournament. The JV's meanwhile established a 5-2 won-loss record, which they were quite proud of.

The MVP award this year went to Marie Witt, a junior forward, while the captain was Debbie Feinauer, a center, who is also a junior.

The Krazy Karnival Returns Once Again to F.H.S. as the junior class fell back into tradition. What was the "Jolly Jamboree" last year was again the Krazy Karnival as in years past. The juniors did a fine job with the annual event and most of their proceeds went toward paying bills for the Junior-Senior Prom.

Co-chairmen for the project were Carol Engerer and Carol Bernthal; they also got a great deal of help from their classmates. The usual games, refreshments, and amusements were on hand for all to enjoy but as usual, the late-night raffle was the greatest attention-getter.

a. Candidates for the Krazy Karnival king and queen are freshmen Lee Sellenraad and Cindy Barger, sophomores Dwight Wilkinson and Laurie Goodwin, juniors Bob Lemcke and Paula Ross, and seniors Mike Lapointe and Nancy Daenzer. Once again, the juniors, Bob and Paula, were crowned king and queen later in the evening. b. Carolyn Weiss and Lynda Demers total money for the king and queen contest. c. The grand prize winner of the ten-speed bike was Dave Zmick. M.C. Rod Borchard congratulates him as advisor Mr. Kiley looks on. d. Even the teachers join in the fun. Mr. Kiley chuckles as Miss Hughes learns to play the "Over Twelve Game".

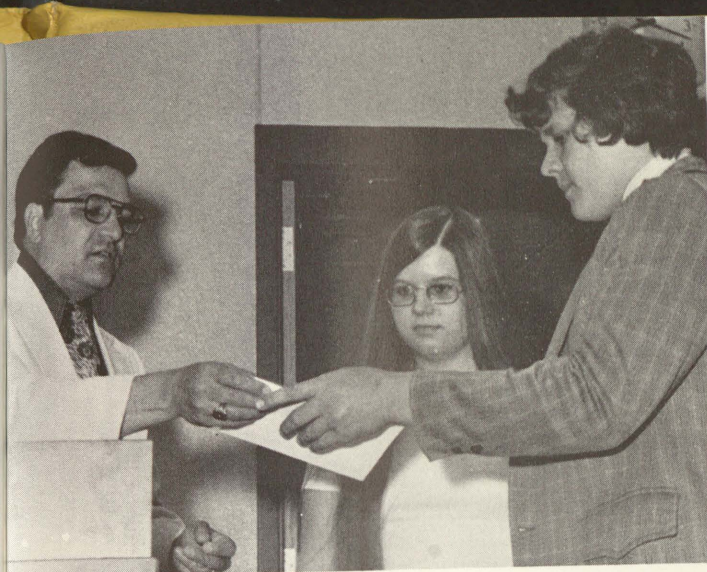

Many Outstanding

students became recipients of awards and honors at the National Honor Society Awards Banquet on May 30. The many hours of hard work, practice, and dedication finally came to fruition for each recipient in his field of interest. Pictured on these two pages are just a few of those honored students.

a. The D.A.R. Good Citizenship Award was given to Patsy Gugel. b. Mr. Charles Lyons presents Kurt Eischer with the Bausch & Lomb Science Award. c. Three seniors who qualified as National Merit Finalists were Dale Mattis, Rosemary Allen, and Charles Krafft. d. John Bierlein proudly accepts the Karl Kasten Social Science Award from Mr. Donald Gregory.

e. Mr. Louie Weiss named Karen Baker and George Gugel Outstanding Co-op Students. Karen was employed in the High School Instructional Materials Center and George worked for the Frankenmuth I.G.A. f. Rosemary Allen and Nancy Wenzloff performed a flute duet at the N.H.S. Banquet. Later in the evening they were named the Outstanding Senior Band Members.

g. One of the more special awards of the evening was the Dennis L. Kern Industrial Education Award, which Mr. Thomas Buchholz presented to Craig Ross. h. Chosen by the faculty as the American Legion Outstanding Senior Girl and Boy were Patsy Gugel and John Bierlein. Commander Paul Ross of Post 150 presented the awards.

When the new edition of a yearbook is ordered by a student, he seldom stops to think if it will be published or not; he takes for granted that it will arrive in the autumn. Little does he know, however, that his five dollars does not guarantee him his copy. Only members of the yearbook staff realize that it takes more funds than the price a student pays. An edition such as this could not be possible without the financial backing from community business persons and contributors. The success of the publication depends on these people, and the yearbook staff is deeply appreciative of their help. It is with this thought in mind that their names have been printed on the following pages. Thank-you, contributors.
